

Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim Insists on Granting Local Governments Their Full Mandates and Aiming at Investment and Private Sector

The head of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq, Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim, insisted on granting local governments their full mandates and on using the economic challenge by turning into an opportunity to aim at the private sector and investment.

This came as his eminence was heading the meeting of the citizen's bloc at the parliament and local governments held at his office in Baghdad on Monday, 4/5/2015.

His eminence called to take care of the families of the popular crowd martyrs, as well as to defend them and protect them from the attack targeting them. He also highlighted the importance of visiting the field to solve the problems of people, implementing the citizen's coalition platform with the available capacities and communicating with the political blocs.
