

During a Meeting with Members of the Group of University Graduates, Sayyid Ammar Calls to Discover Potentials and Develop Studies and Solutions to the Problems and Challenges in the Country

Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim, head of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq, called upon the members of the group of university graduates to turn society into a place that produces ideas, discovers potentials and develops studies and solutions to the problems and challenges for the purpose of developing and advancing Iraq. His eminence stressed the need to make the competent appointees and civil servants join the group, so that their causes and aspirations to serve the country can be responded to in a serious manner. He also affirmed the support of the martyr of the niche movement to university graduates in their ideas and projects aiming to ensure progress and development.

This came when Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim received members of the group of university graduates at his office in Baghdad, on Tuesday, 26/5/2015.

For their part, the group members exposed their thoughts and visions as well as the problems they encounter in their endeavors to serve their country and develop it in different fields.