

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim calls on Politicians to Invest Ramadan by Interaction and Resolving Country's Problems

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, head of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq, called on the political forces to invest the atmosphere of the holy month of Ramadan by meeting together and interacting to solve the country's problems, stressing the need to take care of the poor, needy and displaced people and alleviate their suffering, calling for taking care of the families of martyrs and Mujahideen who have abandoned their families to answer the call of Marjaya and defend the homeland and ideology.

This came in the first evening of Ramadan in His Eminence's office in Baghdad, on Thursday, June 18, 2015.

His Eminence called on youth to answer the call of Marjayia and train to use weapons in preparation for the big fight in case it is imposed on us. Al-Hakim praises the role of the security forces and the popular crowd in the face of ISIS, blesses the Islamic nation with the beginning of the holy month of Ramadan and calls on investing it by the atmosphere of faith, reading the Koran, secluding in the mosque in Al-Qadr nights, communicating and being helpful and good to your kin.
