His eminence stressed on the importance to put practical and reasonable actions to go beyond suggestions phase, expressing his regrets for the absence of practical resolutions dealing with Iraq issues, indicating: "What we lack today is realistic and practical solutions and procedures for the issues and challenges that we face." Asking the persons with disabilities to take the responsibility and address officials and citizens to attract their attention to them and to follow their cases, because nowadays communication is not a big issue anymore and their disabilities is not an obstacle to communicate with the rest of the world and mobilize public opinion that would support their cases.
