

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakim discusses with Deputy chief of Popular Forces Mr. Abu-Mahdi Al-Muhandis the military operations and the liberation of Fallujah

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakim, chairman of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq, received Deputy chief of Popular Forces Mr. Abu-Mahdi Al-Muhandis at his Baghdad office Thursday 9/6/2016

\r\n

His eminence discussed with Al-Muhandis the ongoing military operations and the liberation of Fallujah, stressing the need to evacuate people from areas of military operations and the provision of safe pathways for them, and make great efforts to preserve their lives, as well as the need to provide living requirements, calling for to investigate the security breaches and assembling specialized committees follow up on these issues, and accounting negligent persons and bring them to justice, adding that the liberalization of Fallujah is only to be considered a national operation that is supported by all Iraqi people components.

\r\n

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim reiterated his rejection to set the red lines for the fighters noting that the right of martyrdom can not be limited to a particular location, and praised the efforts of the popular force and tribal forces and security forces and counter-terrorism unit.

\r\n

His Eminence called for maximizing the focus on pros and minimize the focus on cons, indicating that the battle to liberate Fallujah is one of the most organized battles, and negative generalization should not be resulted by negative violations, reminding that breaches in the battles occur in the armies of the world and gravity of it when turning into a hostile approach.