

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakim: "Civil peace requires a courageous and articular decision and a community cover"

Topics related to the post-Daash phase dominated the majority of conversations and discussions that took place during Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakim's meeting with chiefs of clans and tribes at Baghdad Dewan Saturday, 23/07/2016, plus the necessity to relay on social solutions that will be carried out on field, because ISIS is a social fracture, not a criminal case.

\r\n

chairman of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq, stressed the need for civil peace, that requires a courageous and articular decision with a community cover, shouldering leaders of clans and tribes the responsibility to restore community cohesion and providing covers for the decisions that aims to save Iraq and to stop bloodshed of Iraqi people, reminding that the proposals of civil peace over the past years were ignored, however today it proved being realistic solutions if were implemented at that time, we wouldn't reach what we are suffering today, adding, but we have to understand that the political solution to the Iraqi crisis is a community solution, whether we implemented it today or waited for the coming years with the continuation of bloodshed, stressing that the internal conflict is a struggle of attrition on all without a winner.

\r\n

His eminence talked about the security and political aspects of Iraq, noting that terrorism is about to depart broken from Iraq, and Mosul is the last confrontation, pointing out that the fight after the Mosul battle will be security and intelligence battle, therefore we must bring the Inverse proportionality between intelligence capabilities and terrorist operations, whenever the first increases the second decreases, indicating that the political situation in Iraq is moving towards gathering the political blocs of each component in a non-biased political bloc, plus assembling the Board of Policies for the country's leaders to pass laws and move the political wheel in Iraq that moves the economic and social wheel, affirming that reformations is a right goal that require means, and these means should correlate to the good nature of reforms, and no reformations can be achieved using corrupted means, calling to avoid negative generalizations, especially in corruption, because not all are thieves and not everyone is honest, the final word is by the law, and if this law has gaps allowing thieves to escape, we must address these laws and stop cursing the darkness, stressing to end proxy employment in administration positions, through opening positions for all basing on honesty and competence.

\r\n

In respect of his eminence's regional visits, including the neighboring countries, Sayyid Ammar

Al-Hakim indicated that these visits had explained the reality of Iraq and that Iraq will exit strong after the defeat of the terrorist ISIS, and it is not in the interest of any country to be antagonize Iraq and the people of Iraq, pointing to the importance of this reach out even if it resulted in accusations and projections which have no value comparing to any action for serving Iraq and preventing the bloodshed of Iraqi people.

\r\n

His Eminence stressed the importance of preparing for the Battle of Mosul, praising the efforts of the Iraqi tribes fighting against terrorism, including the tribes of Balad district, indicating that Baghdad belt (outskirts) must be cleared from bastions of ISIS, and it is a fact in the mind of the security leaders, but security priorities determine the time and location of the military operation.