

The third evening of month of Muharram .. Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim: who lack insights do not handle reform projects

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, head of the Iraqi National Alliance, stressed that who lack insights does not handle reform projects unlike who are blessed with insights, insightful persons are more to be motivated for the reform project spreading awareness and explain what are the reforms to the people, noting that the divine proof is revealed to people in various forms because people are different in their culture, norms and forms.

\r\n

This took place in the third evening of the month of Muharram at his eminence\'s office Tuesday, 04/10/2016.

\r\n

His eminence stated that heedlessness of God blinds the heart and make persons distant from having an insightful heart, the devil takes advantage of this heedlessness and attempts to falsify the facts and find justification for conducting taboos, pointing out that the insightful persons are characterized of having a kind heart unlike others, pointing to the existence of a community layer looking for the truth while there are who strayed from truth and only looking for conflict.