

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim: those who answer to the call of the Religious Authority are characterized of learning lessons for the insights they have Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, head of the Iraqi National Alliance, emphasized that those who answer to the call of the Religious Authority are characterized of learning from the calamities and experiences of life, therefore they united as brothers to defend Iraq from the terrorist gangs of Daesh.

\r\n

His eminence during the fourth evening of month of Muharram at his office in Baghdad Wednesday, 05/10/2016, indicated that Insightful persons are the ones who do not get confused and does not get affected by media misleading and the falsification of facts, indicating that the insight they have make people focus attention and distinguish good from bad, as well as the fact that insightful persons are reform projects handlers and identify the campaign compass.