

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, head of the National Iraqi Alliance to meet the Secretary of the Supreme National Security Council of Iran Mr. Ali Shamkhani

Head of the National Iraqi Alliance, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, affirmed the strong relations between the Iraqi and Iranian sides, and the importance of strengthening these relations at all levels for serving the two neighboring peoples.

\r\n

This took place during his eminence meeting with the Secretary of the Supreme National Security Council of Iran Mr. Ali Shamkhani Monday, 12/12/2016.

\r\n

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim spoke about the progress of We Are Coming, Nineveh operations and the advancement of the Iraqi military forces countering Daesh terrorism, explaining that the Iraqis were able to break Daesh and their alleged Caliphate reign will soon be eliminated through Iraqi efforts and sacrifices.

\r\n

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim pointed out that Iraq was always a good model for unity and coexistence among all its components, adding that the unity of Iraqis is their only option, and that the National Settlement Bill represents an essential inlet to unite the country and unite the political powers in one direction to build a modern fair state that is able to act and face the challenges, and properly rebuild Iraq and secure Iraqi national sovereignty.