

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim calls for cultural rooting in the political and societal courses and state-building

Head of the National Iraqi Alliance, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, called for a cultural rooting in the political and social courses of state-building and the enactment of laws that define the destination and the philosophy of the state, noting that the crisis in Iraq is basically cultural on political, security, intellectual and even economic levels.

\r\n

This took place during his eminence's eulogy of secretary general of the Islamic Dawa Party-Iraq Organization Abu Aqil al-Moussawi, Saturday, 31.12.2016.

\r\n

His eminence reiterated the importance of unity in cultural, societal and economic levels and unity of homeland and region, calling to receive next year with high self-confident to overcome the crises and the advancement of Iraq, pointing to the importance of a national political solution, as well as in security and industrial domains, and the creation of the promising youth Iraqi generation according to values as well as supporting universities and giving attention to national wealth.

\r\n

His eminence indicated that the deceased was humble, modest and monotheistic in his speeches, an ascetic and sublime, keen for feasibility, calling for unity and synergy, an advocator for an Islamic and patriotic project .