

Chiefs of Committees of National Iraqi Alliance submit results of the establishment phase at a meeting chaired by Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim

Head of the National Iraqi Alliance, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, chaired a meeting with chiefs and deputies of committees of National Iraqi Alliance at his office in Baghdad Tuesday, 21.02. 2017.

\r\n

The meeting included briefings on committees\' work within the National Alliance during the establishment phase and announce official launch of the committees of the National Iraqi Alliance after approving committees\' chiefs and deputies by the Political Authority of the National Iraqi Alliance.

\r\n

The National Iraqi Alliance has established nine specialized committees emanating from within the National Iraqi Alliance that handles the relationship with the government, the popular mobilization forces, the Iraqi House of Representatives, media, communicating with local governments and the masses of the National Iraqi Alliance.

\r\n

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, explained that the institutional action is one of the most important priorities of the National Iraqi Alliance in the current time, for the role of institutional action in organizing the relationship between the largest bloc and other administrative and state institutions, indicating the importance of communicating with the masses and work to overcome the obstacles and this is can only be achieved through the distribution and integration of roles, calling on an active presence of these committees and coordinate roles among them with the relevant committees in the Iraqi House of Representatives especially for the issues that are in direct contact with the citizen that observe challenges of the phase after defeating Daesh militarily.