

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim praises roles assumed by Muthanna tribes in Iraq and urges them to shoulder their responsibilities in the post- Daesh phase

Head of the National Iraqi Alliance, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, praised the roles of Muthanna tribes in Iraq's modern history after the fall of the tyrant, at which they had provided support and defended the state in response to the religious authority call for sufficient jihad, calling the elite of Muthanna sons to shoulder responsibilities in the post-Daesh phase and explain facts to people.

\r\n

This took place during his eminence's speech addressing a gathering of tribal leaders of Muthanna heading a delegation of the National Iraqi Alliance Sunday, 19/03/2017.

\r\n

His eminence explained that some of the opposition to the national settlement are affected by it because they are making their living on the violent discourse, pointing to the importance of the settlement as an option to save Iraq of its Interior crises, calling for investing opportunities, including the positive understanding of Iraq on regional, Arab and international levels.

\r\n

His eminence indicated the end of Daesh is very close on the military levels, stressing the need to develop plans that commensurate with the size of the challenge ahead.