

Meeting with a group of Iraqi inventors .. Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim calls for scientific competition in all aspects of life

Head of the National Iraqi Alliance, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, in his office in Baghdad received A group of Iraqi inventors on Wednesday 29/3/2017.

\r\n

His eminence called for the importance of invoking honest scientific competition in all aspects of life, stressing on the investment of scientific capabilities and provide the opportunity to practical competencies to contribute on the building of Iraq, indicating the support of the National Iraqi Alliance and the Government of Iraq for scientific institutions to sustain scientific discoveries.

\r\n

His eminence indicated that the Iraqi experience has many advantages, some are noticeable and other are not visible or known to society, like freedom enjoyed by society and the size of media, pointing to the need to focus on the pros and be away from the phenomenon of negatives generalization.

\r\n

His eminence pointed to the victories achieved by Iraq through security forces and popular mobilization forces and people in the face of terrorism, citing the acknowledgments that Iraq received from the countries of the world and the Arab League, pointing out that Iraq has taken steps in achieving security stability, two years ago we were fighting on the borders of Baghdad and today we are fighting on the Iraqi border Syria.