

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim receives a delegation of Nahdat Jeel gathering to discuss post-Daesh phase

Head of the National Iraqi Alliance, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, in his office in Baghdad received a Nahdat Jeel (Renaissance of a Generation) gathering delegation Tuesday 2/5/2017.

\r\n

His eminence listened to the tendencies of Nahdat Jeel and its political project. His eminence stressed on the importance of preparing for the post-Daesh phase and learns of mistakes that led to Daesh emergence, including violent speech that brought doom to the areas occupied by Daesh.

\r\n

His eminence pointed out that the next phase is the phase of the trans-components electoral lists, the stage of the national lists to produce of a pro-national government, to be met by a national opposition, stressing that the solution is in the national majority rather than numerical majority to spread assuring messages and the existence of everyone.

\r\n

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim pointed out the importance of young people and new faces presence in the next phase to provide multiple options to the Iraqi voter, reiterated his vision for the next phase, which is a phase of anchoring democracy and form it as a culture and societal behavior before being a political practice, calling to find solution of problems by Iraq without any trusteeship on the Iraqi decision because it rejected by everyone.