

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim warns from the spread of atheism and calls for confronting them with the thought and exposing promoters

Baghdad - political editor

\r\n

Head of the National Iraqi Alliance, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, warned from the spread of atheism in the Iraqi society, and indicated that there are people who are resentful and affected by the Iraqi society\'s adherence to its religious obligations and its relationship with God Almighty, called for confronting these alien ideas to the society with the thought and control these type of ideas and operators of such Ideas, plus exposing the methods they use to spread these ideas.

\r\n

His eminence and in the third Ramadan evening in his office in Baghdad Monday 29/5/2017, stressed that confrontation with Daesh does not mean complacency facing these phenomena, including drug abuse, warning of a used method to spread this plague which is selling drugs in cheap prices cheaper than its countries of origins to cause addiction.

\r\n

His eminence pointed to the danger of bribery in the society as a proof to injustice, especially if the bribe afflicted one of judiciary sections, as well as the seriousness of usury, the withholding testimony when required and when it is more proper to withheld it, indicating that giving creates love, there are who are loved without being seen as happened with the fatwa of the holy jihad of Imam al-Sistani, which hundreds of thousands of Iraqis have responded to in defense of Iraq and its people and holy sites.