

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim: Enjoining what is right and forbid what is wrong is one of the necessities of reform

Baghdad - political editor

\r\n

Head of the National Alliance, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, stated that enjoining what is good and forbidding what is wrong is one of the necessities of reform, pointed that the divine way obligate societies to enjoin what is good and forbid evil so that corruption does not spread in society.

\r\n

This was in the tenth Ramadan Evening at his eminence office in Baghdad Tuesday 6/6/2017.

\r\n

His eminence called for social solidarity within the society and to spread good and righteousness by alerting people to the dangers that surround them, noted that freedoms do not mean silence to deviations, and the importance of confronting evil regardless of discouraged people who avoid telling the truth or face it.

\r\n

His eminence mentioned the divine promise when related to enjoy good and forbid evil and accepting supplications, pointed out that the divine condition for accepting supplication is enjoying good and forbidding evil, and righteousness and good among people regardless of the society strata, righteousness should be for all as well as enjoining what is good and forbidding what is wrong.