

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim: The readiness and hope of youth will end frustration and the country will be built

Head of the National Iraqi Alliance, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, stated that Iraqi youth is capable of saving the country from frustration, urged to invest opportunities in providing service to Iraqi people.

\r\n

This was during his eminence meeting with a group of voluntary work teams in Baghdad marking the World Youth Day Saturday, 12/8/2017. His eminence praised efforts made by young people to develop the country, stressed the importance of finding non-traditional ways to provide services to different segments of society.

\r\n

His eminence pointed out that young people have the determination to participate and correct methods in the elections and other aspects, stressed on the importance of field work in providing service to citizens.

\r\n

His eminence also emphasized the need to create new ideas to start service provision in which the criterion is commitment, discipline and adherence to principles.