

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim: accepting Iraqi competencies candidates from independent bodies is a step in the right direction

Head of the National Iraqi Alliance, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, described accepting Iraqi competencies candidates from independent bodies a good step in the right direction, indicated the importance that Iraqi competencies come forward, especially those who find themselves the best in their field of expertise to manage independent bodies.

\r\n

this took place during his eminence visit to the Saint Klekur Church of Armenians and meeting the President of the Armenian community in Iraq Avak Asadurian.

\r\n

His eminence pointed out that the challenges of 2017 are completely different from the challenges of 2003 and the differences between the challenges must be taken seriously, stressed the importance of modernization and moving away from the traditional classical stereotypes that no longer meet the ambitions and aspirations of the Iraqi people. His eminence emphasized the importance of seeing the interest of Iraqi nation, the projects that are in the interest of everyone within the national framework, pointed out that the Al-Hikma National Movement when it was founded, took into account these facts when establishing, particularly the society youth character and roles required resulting from empowering women, stressed that the General Authority of the Al-Hikma National Movement will seek to empower women and give roles to young people.

\r\n

His eminence stressed that the diversity of Iraq is a source of wealth and various readings in the interest of the country, indicated that the Armenians part of the basic component not to be measured by their numbers, and their privileges are rights must be given to them, stressed the importance of supporting their competencies in state sectors, in embassies and directors-general, also stressed the provision of services and compensations to Iraqi citizens for they faced a great deal of wars and internal problems.