

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim to the tribes of Babil province .. sectarianism in Iraq is political to win votes

Head of the National Iraqi Alliance, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, received a group of Babil province tribes, described sectarianism in Iraq political sectarianism fed by a number of sides aiming for electoral gain, indicated that the tools used by political sectarianism is to intimidate people from each other in order to facilitate penetrating people's lines and play on reassuring them, stressed that the national title is the most comprehensive title that preserves rights of everyone without being suppressed to certain side the of all Iraqi components.

\r\n

His eminence pointed out that the community structure rejects sectarianism, including the tribal structure which have different affiliation in its own internal structure, even if the tribe leader wanted to be sectarian, the tribe would divide within itself, warned of those who do not want to have a united Iraq in terms of decision and stand, because if Iraq regained its role will make Iraq a difficult figure in the regional and international equation.

\r\n

Regarding the Al-Hikma National Movement, his eminence pointed out that the Al-Hikma National Movement was formed to address the challenges and based on the readings of the phase, it is a national movement that gather all components under an Iraqi project guaranteeing rights of everyone, stems from its own title Al-Hikma (wisdom) the comprehensive movement and wisdom as a vital aspect and patriotism as a guarantee to rights of everyone. His eminence stressed the importance of breaking barriers between components and the send messages of reassurance, urged Iraqi tribes to achieve community peace and work to resolve and contain disagreements.