

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim urges Iraqi tribes to support national projects through introducing honest and efficient personalities to political entities

Head of the National Iraqi Alliance, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, in a meeting with a group of elders and sheikhs of the tribes of Dhi Qar province held in his office in Baghdad Sunday 10/9/2017 urged the Iraqi tribes to support national projects through introducing honest and efficient personalities to political entities in order to give them roles in the next phase. His eminence counted tribal relations in Iraq an evidence of community's adherence to diversity as the components of Iraq are an undeniable reality in Iraq.

\r\n

his eminence stressed the importance of accompanying the military achievements with political, social and developmental victories by supporting national projects that aim to build the state of citizenship and institutions, indicating that it is time to see non-sectarian and impartial entities stemming from the Iraqi patriotic identity that unites everyone.

\r\n

His eminence pointed out that the Al-Hikma National Movement seeks to represent the components of the Iraqi society and make them part of decision-making, stressed that integrity and efficiency are the basic criteria, and that political stability ends negative stampede, provides jobs and encourages companies to investment and work in Iraq.