

Al-Hakeem attends consolation ceremonies... And gifted a spouse

On Friday. 2nd of March, 2012. Sayeed Amar al-Hakeem, head of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq, during ending his tour to Basra province, attended number of consolation ceremonies for ordinary people, participating sympathy and condolences, asking Allah, His Almighty, to grant them patience and fortitude.

The citizens expressed their thanks and appreciation for the participation of His Eminence to their grief, swearing to stay on loyalty to the religious authority and the defense of Iraq.

Sayeed Amar al-Hakeem gifted a spouse whom their wedding happened to pass in the way of the return of His Eminence, wishing to him a happy life, whereas the relatives and friends of the groom expressed their happiness, appreciating the generosity of His Eminence and contact with his people through happiness and sadness.