

SAYYID AMMAR AL-HAKIM WARNS ABOUT EXCITEDNESS AND UNDERTAKING THE WRONG DECISION.

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, Head of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq (ISCI), stressed that the moral status, discipline, precision, commitment, putting the right plans, measures and sound stances play a decisive and major role in making victory and winning the battle, pointing out in this regard to the victories achieved by the Muslims in their battles against the polytheists and others.

His Holiness called in his 12th Ramadan eve, Wednesday, August 1, 2012, for dealing and envisioning matters with wisdom, not with vanity and the undertaking of rash decisions, stressing the importance of turning the casual look into an aware one that makes one think and ponder on the vast cosmos created by the Creator, the most Exalted One. He reviewed the great interest shown by the Qur'anic verses and quotations from the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) and his Ahl al-Bayt () so man's outlook towards whatever surrounds him may be one of deriving moral lessons and insights.

His Holiness stressed the need for man to be among the people of insight. He stands at the phenomena to discern them well and to undertake the right step, warning against excitements and the undertaking of wrong decisions. He explained that the more one becomes familiar with the realities of this cosmos, the more he will sense the Greatness of Allah Almighty, in addition to his sense of his smallness before the Creator, the most High, the most Great. This makes man more attached to the most Praised One, loving Him more.
