

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim: We will surprise the world by overcoming the state building challenge

Head of the National Iraqi Alliance, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, met elders and tribal figures of Diwaniya province Thursday, 18/1/2018

His eminence indicated that the Iraqis surprised the world by defeating Daesh terrorist groups, and they are able to overcome the remaining challenges, including state-building, reiterated the need to achieve building a strong state in which citizens feel the welfare and stability, noted that the great victories achieved will be lost unless building a strong state that protects achievements.

His eminence pointed out that building the country needs expertise, plans, team, professionalism and competence plus benefiting from the experiences of other countries, pointed out that the Iraqis will surprise the world by succeeding in the state-building challenge, as they succeeded on the military level and liberated the country from Daesh, contained sectarianism that has engulfed society and the achievement of national unity.

His eminence praised the stand of all Iraqis in the face of Daesh, contribute in donations to the fighters and equipping them with weapons and logistical materials, urged to remain on this stand in order to overcome other challenges and make state-building a priority by gathering all need resources in order to reach accomplishment in a short period of time.