

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim receives the Russian ambassador and calls for strengthening relations on various levels

Head of the National Iraqi Alliance, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, in his office in Baghdad, received the Russian Ambassador to Baghdad Maxim Maximov Tuesday 13/3/2018

His eminence with Maximov discussed bilateral relations between Iraq and Russia, and called to strengthen relations on all levels.

His eminence urged Russia to contribute to assist Iraq to improve in economy, reconstruction and construction, pointed out that Iraq is moving towards building institutions, achieving development, encouraging investment, providing services and fighting corruption, and highlighted Iraq openness to foreign relations.

His eminence stressed to form the next government according to priorities and needs of the citizen, pointed out that the upcoming elections will shift Iraq from instability to stability, emphasized on maintaining the integrity of elections as elections represent a cornerstone towards achieving all goals.

His eminence stressed to form the next government according to priorities and needs of the citizen, pointed out that the upcoming elections will shift Iraq from instability to stability, emphasized on maintaining the integrity of elections as elections represent a cornerstone towards achieving all goals.