

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim calls to compensate the oppressed Yezidis, and urges the international community to criminalize terrorism and do justice of those affected by it

Head of the Reform and Reconstruction Alliance, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, indicated that the number of oppressed Yazidi victims due to Daesh terrorism are noticeably horrible based on statistics released by the Yazidis Abductees Rescue Office.

His eminence in a statement indicated that these statistics are a reason for the international community and its humanitarian and human rights organizations to shoulder the responsibility of criminalizing terrorism and redress those who have been harmed by it, and oblige the legislative and executive authorities, media institutions and community organizations in Iraq to take responsibility of outline this great injustice and to compensate this component materially and morally.