

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem calls to reconsider security plans, adopt new strategy after Firman assassination

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, head of the National State Powers Alliance, expressed his deep sorrow for the assassination of intelligence officer Nibras Farman in downtown Baghdad.

His Eminence tweeted on Monday, June 7, 2021, "We were deeply saddened by the news of the assassination of the martyred Iraqi intelligence officer, Colonel Nibras Farman, in downtown Baghdad. The treacherous crime against a security figure the rank of the deceased and other assassination crimes that affect activists and media professionals. Calls to reconsider security plans and adopt a new strategy while announcing the results of the investigations and revealing them to public opinion."

His Eminence condemns this treacherous crime and prays to the Almighty to have mercy on him and inspire his relatives and family patience and solace.