

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem: "Speicher" massacre is June's cataclysm, calls for victims' families' reparation

His Eminence Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, head of the National State Powers Alliance, described the Speicher massacre as the catastrophe of June 2014, calling for reparations for the victims' families. His Eminence tweeted on Saturday, June 12, 2021, "The Speicher massacre, which affected thousands of young people in this country after the cataclysm of June 2014, stores in the heart of it the agony of the bereaved, the distraught, and the orphans.

In its 7th agonizing memorial, we reiterate on UN listing it under the crimes committed by the terrorist group ISIS. We consider this a victory for truth and an invite to invest in the UN report to work on reparations and redressing the victims' families.
