

On International Youth Day, Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem reiterates his support for Youth, empower them, and invest their capabilities

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, head of the National State Powers Alliance, renewed his support for young people and empowering them. His Eminence tweeted on Thursday, August 12, 2021, “On International Youth Day, we renew our commitment to supporting and empowering young people and our demand to invest their promising energies and great potentials and preserve them as a giving national wealth in the service of the nation. We believe that this segment represents the largest percentage in society and its backbone, and is the source of, as it is the building block. It possesses a spirit of challenge and high determination to launch the nation towards development and prosperity.”

His Eminence also showed pride in our youth who defended the homeland and race for honor and glory, and those who made sacrifices and made their lawful rights claims heard clearly in the peaceful demonstration fields