

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem calls Iraq's government to support Oman with available means

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, head of the National State Powers Alliance, called the Iraqi Government to provide support to the Sultanate of Oman with the available means due to the floods and rains that hit the sultanate.

His Eminence tweeted on October 4, 2021 "With deep pain and great sorrow, we console the Sultanate of Oman for what happened from unfortunate floods that struck some of its areas, causing massive damage."

His Eminence affirmed his consolidation with the government and people and urged the international community to aid the disaster-stricken areas and provide the necessary assistant in this devastating circumstance.
