

Sayyid Al-Hakeem congratulates teachers on their day, considers elevating education really a national necessity

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem congratulated the educational family, and considering elevating the educational reality a national necessity.

His Eminence congratulated on teachers day, 1 March 2022, "A teacher's profession is the closest to a divine mission..

As we live through the festivities of the birth of our prophet and entrusting the delivery of the divine message to our master and teacher, our prophet Mohammed (May Allah's blessings be upon him). We reach the Day of the Teacher, so we congratulate the teaching family on their day and reiterate that elevating the country's educational reality is a national necessity. We also call upon the legislative and executive authorities to advance the reality of the educators of new generations, honor them, and elevate their living conditions for them to deliver their message with perfection.10:57