

Al-Imara clan's host, Sayyid Al-Hakeem confirms citizens' need for servant government, unconcerned of political disputes

In the host of Sheik Al-Imara, Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, head of Al-Hikma National Movement, met several sheiks and dignitaries of Al-Imara tribe and the sheiks and dignitaries of the northern Basra's clans, where H.E. recalled with them the joint history with this genuine clan in the era of Shaheed Al-Mihrab and Aziz Al-Iraq (may their souls be sanctified) in fighting dictatorship and facing terrorism with all of its nomenclatures, answering the call of the blessed religious authority. Thus, indicating that Iraq is accumulating positives in spite of the internal and external ordeals, stressing the necessity of looking at the positive side, as there are many positives that has been achieved.

His Eminence indicated that Iraq is capable of overcoming its internal problems, and the importance of achieving stability through maintaining balance. There is no stability without balance and no government will be able to provide services if it loses stability. He said that the citizen is not concerned with political conflicts as much as he is preoccupied with the daily concern of services and job opportunities, reiterating His position not to participate in the next government, indicating that "we are investing all our capabilities and prestige in order to converge the view of the factions and push the wheel forward."
