

Sayyid Al-Hakeem warns against turning presidential election session into session to break wills of powers

At the Conference of the Iraqi Alliance of Faili Kurds on 19/3/2022, Sayyid Al-Hakeem, head of Al-Hikma National Movement, renewed his congratulations on the occasion of the birth of Imam Al-Mahdi (may Allah Almighty hasten his honorable reappearance), warning against turning the election session for the President of the Republic into a session that breaks the wills between the political powers, and he said in his speech, "The state cannot be run by arm twisting and breaking bones, but through dialogue, understanding, integration and giving priority to the public interest over private interests."

His Eminence stressed the importance of adopting a single rule in dealing with the powers wishing to participate in the next government, indicating that balance is a precursor to stability, adding that the grievances of the Fayli Kurds cannot be contained in words. Their grievances are great and it has a history, symbols, and documents, the Failis must teach their sons public opinion about it and what has happened.

His Eminence pointed out that the Faili Kurds were targeted because of their national and sectarian affiliation, and the regime even went as far as to write articles boosting the efforts of his party to uproot the Failis from Iraq and adopt them as samples for its biological and chemical experiments until 600,000 of them were displaced and 20,000 of them were absent and their fate is unknown until this very moment.

His Eminence called for the unity of the Faili component and its adoption as a way to achieve the demands and obtain rights.
