

Sayyid Al-Hakeem calls to adopt dialogue and constitution to resolve Baghdad-Erbil outstanding issues, rely on rights and duties logic

During receiving Mr. Nechirvan Barzani, the President of the Kurdistan-Iraq Region, and the accompanying delegation on 27/11/2022, Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem discussed with his guest views of the Iraqi and regional political landscape developments. His Eminence recalled the history that we share with the Kurdistan Democratic Party, the leaders of our Kurdish people, and the honorable family of Barzani in facing the dictatorship and terrorism, and building the modern democratic experience. H.E. reiterated condolences to our Kurdish people over the gas systems explosions that occurred recently.

H.E. called to revert to the constitution in resolving the outstanding issues between Baghdad and Erbil and illustrated that conceding for Iraq's sake and the national interest, achieves everyone's interests, especially with the opportunity to overcome any disagreement if everyone possessed the will for it, as well as adopting the principle of rights and duties when picturing any relation.

H.E. stressed the necessity of preserving Iraq's sovereignty and abiding by the constitution as Iraq cannot be a launching point or a pathway to threatening the neighboring countries.

H.E. reiterated his call to support the current government in its serious direction to provide services and job opportunities, as well as address the deprivation of some cities and governorates.

Concerning security, H.E. showed that terrorism still represents a security threat, even though its military threat is no more. This requires constant security coordination and exchange of intelligence.
