

Sayyid Al-Hakeem calls to redress marshes, deprived regions by allocating needed funds to reconstruct, develop

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, head of Al-Hikma National Movement, met several sheiks, dignitaries, and marshes activists in southern Iraq on Tuesday, 14/2/2023, and recalled the Jihadi history of this region and its men's position in fighting dictatorship and rebuilding the new Iraq. While His Eminence called to redress the deprived regions by allocating needed funds for reconstruction and development. H.E. lauded the national positions of the locals of the marshes to defend Iraq's unity, land, and the freedom of its people.

H.E. illustrated that marshes have been, and are still on the head of the priorities. A lot has been made for it, yet it still suffers and needs a lot. H.E. confirmed that having the Marshes on the List of International Heritage was the culmination of doubling the efforts to convey the status and the injustice of this region, indicating that the challenges that faced Iraq, including the terrorism challenge in its different names and the ability of Iraqis to overcome these challenges within record timings, inspired others to change their look and readings of the new Iraqi reality.

H.E. lauded the sons of clans to answer the call of the Supreme Religious Reference to defend Iraq and face terrorism, calling to redress deprived regions by allocating the needed funds for reconstruction and development.
