

Sayyid Al-Hakeem: Iraq's regional roles reflect its security, political stability

Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, head of Al-Hikma National Movement, at the host of Sheikh Hassan Hashim Al-Sayyadi on 22/2/2023, met a group of sheiks and dignitaries of the genuine clan of Bo Sayyyad, recalling the long-shared history with them at key points in Iraq's modern march . His Eminence illustrated that part of the problems experienced by Iraq is the result of the transition from a dictatorial regime to a democratic one. Iraq has overcome challenges at the security, political, and social levels and has experience in combating terrorism, which makes it a model for the study and training of other security institutions in the region and the world. H.E. stresses the importance of looking at Iraq's reality from the perspective of the challenges faced. The challenges Iraq faced demanded redressing its experience.

H.E. called for a fair election law in terms of representation, encouragement to participate in elections, and interpretation of the parliamentary realities of the political system, noting the government's success factors of relative financial abundance, security stability, international and regional reading, social reality, the Prime Minister's person, and the PM's awareness of important files by virtue of the locations he occupied.

H.E. also urged Iraq to consider its regional roles, which were directly proportional to Iraq's internal stability; once Iraq achieved internal stability, it was able to reclaim its regional and international status.
