

Sayyid Al-Hakeem: Al-Madinah Districts reminds us of Jihad and fighting dictatorship days

In Al-Madinah District, Basrah Governorate, in the host of Al-Emara clan, Sayyid Ammar Al-Hakeem, head of Al-Hikma National Movement, met several dignitaries and sheiks of the district and said that these giving districts remind us of the days when we fought the dictatorship and the grand sacrifices of its sons during that era and what followed in combating terrorism, and without these blood and sacrifices, we wouldn't have reached this moment of freedom that we live today.

His Eminence indicated the gained achievements in the social, political, security, economic, and service levels. H.E. also indicated the importance of taking pride in them and speaking about them, although they're not the ceiling of our ambition. Yet, it indicates that Iraq is on the right trajectory towards growth and development, calling to stay away from frustration and unjust negative generalization.

H.E. expressed rejoicing to witness the state of the building that Al-Madinah district is having, which may not be visible to the sons of the district themselves. Yet, it comes from outside of Basrah that can notice the change, affirming that others perceive the Iraqi experience today with admiration, this coming from leaders of the world and the region. Therefore, we must notice this improvement and accumulate it, as Iraq owns enough capabilities to enable it as its fortunes have not and will not run out.
