

During his reception for the acting head of the Accountability and Justice Commission, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim stresses the necessity of implementing the law distantly from politicization.

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, Head of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq (ISCI), has stressed the big and important role of the Accountability and Justice Commission, expressing his valuable directives about the necessity of implementing the law with high professionalism distantly from politicization.

This came up during his reception for His Eminence the Acting Head of the Accountability and Justice Commission, Mr. Falah Hassan Shanshal, and his deputy, Bakhtiyar Omer, on Tuesday, November 13, 2012, at his Baghdad office.

Mr. Shanshal acquainted His Eminence with the work of the Commission and the efforts to develop its performance in a way that achieves the supreme national interest.