

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim Reiterates Commitment to Implementing the Citizen Alliance's Program

During a visit by the members of the Council of Wasit province to his Eminence's office in Baghdad, Thursday, 30/5/2013, Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, head of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq, has stressed the necessity of committing to the Citizen Alliance's electoral program and making efforts to implement it with any available means, as well as the necessity of pulling together to help develop the provinces. His Eminence has also said, "now that the competition is over amidst lots of expectations and wishes expressed by the people, we must move to the cooperation stage", urging the new members to work in field so as to serve the country and the citizens.
