Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, head of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq, stressed the importance of forming a coherent, competent team that reassures everybody, saying this team must be armed with well-defined strategic visions. He also underlined the importance of the security plans to fight terrorism, renewing his support for the security apparatuses in their open war against terrorist groups. This came during a meeting between his Eminence and the Second Karkh Organizations in their headquarters in Baghdad on Friday, February 28, 2014.

His Eminence called on the Second Karkh Organizations to go down the streets and explain the project of the fair modern state, showing that the organizations are under an increasing pressure since they have a project and abide by the instructions of the marjas not as favor to the latter, but because they owe it to Allah, urging the voters to widely participate in the elections and collect their voting cards.
