

Receiving the Sheikhs, Leaders and Elites of North Baghdad, Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim Underlines that Trust and Distribution of Roles are the Key to Build Iraq and Ensure its Stability

The head of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq, Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim, underlined that building Iraq and ensuring its stability are achieved through trust among Iraq political parties and the distribution of roles, explaining that Iraq possesses all the elements necessary to move forward and develop, mainly its material and human potentials, strategic location, water, tourism and others.

This came when his eminence was meeting with the sheikhs, leaders and elites of the regions North of Baghdad, on Monday, March 31, 2014.

His eminence praised the Iraqi tribes, their position against dictatorship and the way they preserve the Arab and Islamic identity. He indicated that Iraq is the cradle of civilizations and prophets and that the starting point of humanity's development was from Iraq. Sayyid Al Hakim reiterated that Iraq needs a clear vision, a harmonious and strong team and a comprehensive administrative vision in all areas, stressing that the Citizen Bloc has developed an accurate and global project to run the country during the four coming years, a project that sets forth solutions for the current problems. He finally urged everyone to participate in elections and choose the most competent and qualified candidates within the strong and appropriate list.
