

In his Meeting with the Tribes of Al Tufayl, Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim Stresses Iraq's Need for an Inclusive Vision and a Homogeneous Team to Provide Effective Solutions to its Problems

Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim insisted on the importance of solidarity and unity among all components of the Iraqi people, explaining that Iraqi tribes play a vital role in strengthening the relations of love and national cohesion and in aborting the enemies' plans of sowing discord among the components of the Iraqi people.

This came when his eminence was meeting a large group of sheikhs and leaders of Al Tufayl tribes from the province of Babel, at his office in Baghdad, on the morning of Thursday, April 10, 2014.

His eminence called on the Iraqi citizens to support competent and upright candidates within the appropriate and strong national lists, reiterating Iraq's need for an inclusive vision, a homogeneous team and an administrative revolution in order to provide solutions to the problems of Iraq in different areas.

From their part, the attendees expressed their appreciation for the role and efforts made by Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim in diagnosing the deficiencies and developing visions and perceptions to overcome the obstacles preventing the development, stability and welfare.
