

Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim Calls on the Network of Observers to Double Efforts In Order to Make the Observation Process Succeed

The head of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq, Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim, stressed the need for the early presence of observers in voting centers and for their stay until the end of the counting and sorting process. His eminence insisted on the importance of observation to ensure an honest electoral process. This came during the meeting of his eminence with the network of observers affiliated to the Martyr of the Niche movement, held at this eminence's office in Baghdad on Sunday, April 27, 2014.

Sayyid Al Hakim urged observers to double the efforts and communicate among themselves and with their higher authorities, insisting on writing and objecting on all contraventions.
