

During its Meeting with Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, the Iranian Parliamentary Delegation Congratulates the Iraqis for the Successful Democratic Experience

Sayyid Ammar al-Hakim, head of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq, praised the Iraqi citizens for their wide and conscious participation in the last elections and their overcoming of all difficulties and crises, explaining that this determination and courage of Iraqis in challenging terrorism and participating in the elections are due to the awareness of the political bodies to the sensitive, serious conditions the nation is going through.

This came during a visit rendered by the parliamentary delegation from the Islamic Republic of Iraq to his Eminence in his office in Baghdad, Monday May 19, 2014.

For his part, the delegation congratulated the wide participation of the Iraqi people in the last democratic epic, saying the Islamic Republic of Iraq is interested in building stronger relations with Iraq in different areas.
