

Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim Receives a Number of Political, Security and Tribal Personalities Congratulating his Eminence on Eid Al Adha Al Mubarak

Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim, head of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq, received in his office in Baghdad, on the first day of Adha, Sunday, October 5, 2014, a number of well-wishers including his eminence Patriarch Sako, the patriarch of Chaldeans in Iraq and the world, officer Abdul Amir Al Chumari, the head of operations in Baghdad, officer Kassem Ata and a number of sheikhs from the tribes of Al Anbar, Mosul, Baghdad, middle Euphrates and the south. His eminence thanked everyone who extended their congratulations, praying to the Almighty to make this occasion a happy Eid for all Iraqis and the Islamic nation and to accept their acts of devotion and repel any harm.