

Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim Discusses Political Developments and Iraq's External Relations with Al Jaafari

Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim, head of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq, met on Sunday, October 12, 2014 the Iraqi minister of foreign affairs, Ibrahim Al Jaafari in the latter's office in Baghdad.

The two sides discussed during the meeting the security and political developments in the country and the region as well Iraq's external relations and the mechanism to invest the international support and coalition in combating terrorism. His eminence highlighted that Iraqis are capable of eliminating terrorism and all they need is armament, training and intelligence information.