

Calling Them to Discipline and Commitment, Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim Praises the Victories Achieved by Security Forces and Popular Crowd Forces

Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim, head of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq, expressed his appreciation of the significant role played by the popular crowd volunteers in achieving great victories against the forces of darkness and disbelief and assisting the Iraqi army and police. This came when his eminence was meeting in his office in Baghdad, on Tuesday, October 14, 2014, members of the popular crowd heading to participate in the operations alongside their brothers in the Iraqi army and other security forces. His eminence expressed his appreciation of the volunteers' response proto the high authority's call, which reflects the high commitment to its instructions and recommendations that only want to lead the nation to goodness. Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim underlined that the jihadist position and right dogma of the combatants will turn into real strength, thus leading to the great victory God willing. His eminence finally called to commit to the discipline and instructions of the leaders, and to master the training which would increase the value of their work.
