

In the Fifth Evening of Muharram, Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim Assures that Trust in Allah and Strong Belief and Faith are the Fundamentals of the Victory in Jurf Al Sakhr

Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim, head of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq, assured that trust in Allah and strong belief and faith are the fundamentals of the victory in Jurf Al Sakhr, praising the spirit of young believers who have answered the authority's call to defend the country and dogma. His eminence indicated that there are critical decisions that have changed the path of peoples because they were made based on a correct diagnosis, clarifying that insight helps believers make the diagnosis when things get confusing for them.

This came in the fifth evening of Muharram held in his eminence's office in Baghdad, on Wednesday, October 29th, 2014. His eminence explained the importance of decision-making, early diagnosis and the will to implement decisions, highlighting that sins confuse humans and misleads them. He finally added that piety is the remedy to humans' spiritual and moral illnesses, considering that avarice is a fatal disease that leads to the death of the mind.
