

Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim Discusses Security Situation and Political Developments with a Delegation of Sheikhs of Anbar Tribes Headed by the Emir of the Dulaim Tribes Majed Ali Suleiman

Sayyid Ammar Al Hakim, head of the Islamic Supreme Council of Iraq, received in his office in Baghdad on Tuesday, March 3, 2015, a delegation of sheikhs of Anbar tribes headed by Sheikh Majed Ali Suleiman, the emir of the Dulaim tribes.

His eminence discussed with the delegation the security situation and the political developments in Iraq, explaining that ISIS is targeting everyone and efforts should be joined to eliminate the terrorist group.

For its part, the delegation lauded Sayyid Al Hakim's visions and efforts aiming to bring viewpoints closer together, and highlighted the importance of identifying the real powers that have a clear influence in the western provinces.